Widow Abigail Brant was in the pension index. She applied for a pension on the service of John who was listed as being in Co E of the 120th. She applied 2 Nov 1863, Application 37493, Certificate 40668. Also on the same card there is a listing for Abigail Coon as Guardian for minors on 18 May 1871, Application 196391, Certificate 151948. So I looked for Abigail Coon in 1880. I believe this is the widow with her new husband and the two sons of the 120th soldier, John Brant. Because of all the evidence gathered, I believe that the age given for John BRANT when he entered the service is not correct.

Abigail Brant Coon died 31 Jan 1917 at Grand Rapids MI, address 10 E. Franklin/Frankling St. Her 2nd husband, John F. Coon, had died 12 Sept 1896, at age 44yrs, 3 months at Ludington, Mason Co MI. He died of consumption, born OH, occupation cooper. Parents were William H. and Almira Coon.

Abigail's daughter applied for money for her care and burial. Delphina Edmonds of Grand Rapids, Kent Co MI. Pensioner lived at 802 South Division Ave. Grand Rapids, MI and died there. That was Delphina's home. She was to be buried at Ludington, MI. Delphina's husband was Samuel D. Edmonds.

John Brant's brother was George Brant who had also lived in Wayne Co OH when John and Abigail did. His affidavit was dated 21 Dec 1901. He was, at that time, age 67 and his p o address was Warsaw, Kosciusko Co IN.

Abigail was age 18 when she married John Brant and John was 21. Neither had been previously married. John had never served in the army or navy of the US previous to 22 Aug 1862. Second husband John F. Coon was not in the military being only 14 at the close of the war. "John F. Coon was in poor health for many years before his death...and that she herself had largely supported the family by her daily labor...." William H. Coon and Lovilla McMullen were the brother and sister of John Coon.

R. P. Bishop of Ludington MI, affidavit: "He [John Coon] was rather a shiftless man, of rather poor health, and a very poor provider for his family. Neither of them had any property, and they depended largely for their livelihood, upon the day labor of the applicant in this case, Mrs. Abigail Coon, who was always a faithful, hard-working woman, of little intellect, but a woman that was respected in her class in society. She worked at day labor in my own home at various times, washing and at house-cleaning. At present she is old, feeble and dependent, although she is ready and willing to try to work. There is no one upon whom she can depend for support except in an occasional odd job, which a crippled son can do. She has no property of any kind, and is very needy." April 1903

In another letter, 20 Apr 1903, to the Commissioner of Pensions, Bishop said: "She [Abigail Coon] was once pensioned, and if she had not taken Coon to care for, the government would have continued to advance her $12.00 per month. She thought she wanted a man, no matter how poor a one, and that longing has saved the government something like $2,500. She is honest and ignorant, but truly entitled, and I hope that you will dispense justice speedily."

John and Abigail's minor children were Eunice D. born 4 Jan 1854 at Ashland Co OH; George W, born 4 Mar 1856, Wayne Co OH; Leander, born 1 Jan 1860 Wayne Co OH; Delphina, born 2 June 1862 Wayne Co OH.
